The Brand

WHAT MWAG IS, AND HOW IT SHOULD FEEL

MWAG is built to look and read like an established advisory institution — not a typical student organization.

Michigan Wealth Advisory Group exists to teach financial planning and wealth advisory practice, distinct from the stock-pitch and portfolio-management clubs that dominate campus. The brand exists to reinforce that distinction at every touchpoint: it should look like the profession it prepares students for, not like a classroom simulation of it.

“Quiet luxury for a student org — the visual vocabulary of an advisory firm, applied to a club.”

01

Positioning

Financial planning, not stock-picking.
Goals-based, practitioner-track,
CFP-aligned.

02

Credibility

Every material signals legitimacy — departmental sponsorship, FPA affiliation, practitioner speakers.

03

Aesthetic

Editorial, ledger-inspired, warm and restrained — closer to a prospectus than a flyer.

Logo & Color

THE MARK, ITS SPACE, AND THE PALETTE IT LIVES IN

Usage

- Always reproduce in solid gold (#9C7A3C) or ink (#16233A) — never gradient or multicolor.
- Maintain clear space equal to the height of the “M” on all sides.
- Minimum size: 0.5in / 48px wide to keep serifs legible.
- Do not stretch, rotate, add drop shadows, or place on busy photography.
- Use the transparent PNG on paper/cream backgrounds; use a white knockout on dark ink backgrounds.

How MWAG Sounds & Reads

tone guidelines and recurring layout patterns

CONFIDENT	State things plainly. Let credentials and specifics do the persuading — avoid hype language or exclamation points in official materials.
PRECISE	Use exact terms (goals-based investing, CFP®, DSSO) rather than vague finance buzzwords. Precision signals competence.
WARM, NOT CASUAL	Professional and human — closer to a well-written client letter than a corporate memo or a group chat.
UNDERSTATED	No superlatives, no all-caps shouting outside of small mono labels. Let the design carry the polish.

Recurring Motifs

The ledger row is the core visual pattern — used in the newsletter, meeting agendas, and speaker schedules alike.

01	Numbered index	STRUCTURE
02	Dotted rule between entries	LEDGER
03	Small-caps mono tag, right-aligned	LABEL
